and Provide Severe Penalty

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session Monday, August 7th, there being present P. H. McEvoy, presiding, Wm. H. Brown, D. E. Blackburn, Jas. T. Casey and Jos. M. Francis.

The following named liquor dealers whose applications were read at the first meeting in July were granted licenses:

Kate Sullivan, San Bruno; Philip Drady, Millbrae; A. D. Jenevein, San Bruno; Lauer & Lovegreen, Millbrae.

Second township—John F. McCann, Homestead.

Fourth township—C. O. Morgan, Granada; J. Y. Azevedo, Halfmoon Bay; L. Raffanti, Montara; J. B. Clarke, Purissima; G. Patroni, Halfmoon Bay; A. T. Glicer, Halfmoon Bay.

Fifth township—C. Gianola, Pescadero; Frank Bell, San Gregorio.

The following applications for liquor licenses were given first reading and will be acted upon a month hence:

First township—Mori Bros, Salda Beach; Joe Perry, San Bruno; L. Peterson, San Bruno; S. Delmagheri, San Bruno; A. Baradat, San Bruno; G. S. Brown, Colma; H. Daneman, San Pedro; A. Stamparoni, Colma; P. E. Fleming, Tobin; Attelio Menacaci, San Pedro.

Third township—Edward Ellis, Woodside; W. A. Maloney, Menlo Park.

Fourth township—H. Levy, Halfmoon Bay; C. P. Mosconi, Halfmoon Bay; Peter Giani, Halfmoon Bay; Frank P. Brophy, Princeton; Joe Debonedetti, Halfmoon Bay; F. F. Sarcander, Purissima.

Fifth township—Antone Bennett, Pescadero.

Tax Collector McSweeney asked permission to make certain changes in the arrangement of his office to add to its convenience. Consideration of the matter was postponed until afternoon.

Edw. Foley applied to the board for assistance, representing that he had been a county resident for thirty years, was seventy years old and in ill health and unable to earn a livelihood.

Chairman McEvoy spoke in favor of the applicant, testifying to his good character. On motion of Casey, seconded by Brown, the applicant was granted $8 per month.

A. Becco of San Bruno applied for a license to peddle dry goods. On motion of Casey, seconded by Brown the license was granted.

Mrs. A. Bader of San Mateo petitioned the board for assistance in the support of her niece, Lena Peters, aged six and one-half years, whose parents are dead. On motion of Brown, seconded by Blackburn, the applicant was granted $6 per month.

A petition signed by J. M. Custer and a large number of other residents of San Bruno was presented, asking the board to extend Huntington avenue at that place so that an entry may be had from San Mateo avenue and San Bruno avenue; that Sylvan avenue be opened across the tracks of the Southern Pacific and United Railroads to Belle Air tract; and that Forest avenue be extended across the railroad tracks into the Fifth addition so that the residents of that tract may have proper entrance to their property. Mr. Custer addressed the board in support of the petition stating that the residents desired the opening of the avenues named to give them relief from the obstruction caused by the Spring Valley Water Company's flume which occupies a portion of San Mateo avenue for its full length. The avenue thus obstructed, with the waterway on the opposite side, had a roadway of only 21 feet wide while it was supposed to be 66 feet wide.

Casey moved that the petition be accepted and referred to the district attorney.

L. E. Fuller, the business agent of the county development society, stated that the surveyor had some months ago examined the records and reported on the condition of San Mateo avenue, which report was a part of the board's record.

H. O. Helmer, who assisted in the examination, referred to, said that at the time the Spring Valley flume was erected San Mateo avenue was a private road.

Casey's motion to refer the matter to the district attorney for an opinion was seconded by Blackburn and carried.

A communication was received from School Superintendent Cloud notifying the board that West Union school district, having had an attendance of less than five pupils for the past year must be declared suspended.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Blackburn, the matter was laid over until the next meeting to give all parties who are interested an opportunity to be heard on the subject.

Mrs. Mary A. Cody of San Bruno sent a communication asking that the liquor license held by her late husband be transferred to her. The communication was accepted and filed but no action was taken, it being unnecessary, Mrs. Cody being the legal successor of her husband.

A communication was received from the California State Automobile Association asking that the Teezer Sign Company of Indianapolis be permitted to display certain advertising matter along the county roads.

The communication was accepted and will be held awaiting further information regarding the purposes of the company.

The following communication and resolution was received from the Knights of the Royal Arch society of Redwood City.

Whereas, One of the established principles of the Knights of the Royal Arch is the induction of proper respect for obedience to and enforcement of all statutes, ordinances and regulations adopted by federal, state or local authority; and

Resolved, That it is especially desirable to eliminate the law-breaking and otherwise undesirable elements among the liquor dealers, and to secure compliance with all statutory and local regulations in order that the public may generally come to understand that those engaged in the business are decent, respectable and law-abiding citizens; therefore be it

Resolved, By Redwood City Lodge No. 57, Knights of the Royal Arch, that every member of this lodge is hereby commanded to faithfully observe, obey and enforce all and every statute, ordinance and regulation enacted by federal, state or municipal authorities, whether the same be deemed harsh, oppressive, unjust or unreasonable, and that grievances and complaints shall be reported to and redress sought through the Knights of the Royal Arch; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these regulations be transmitted to the honorable Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County, the honorable Board of Trustees of Redwood City, the honorable Board of Trustees of South San Francisco, the honorable Board of Trustees of Daly City, the San Francisco Press, in order that such public officials and the public generally may be apprised of the attitude of the Knights of the Royal Arch toward the law and its officers, and of the desire of those directly concerned with the business to rid it of the excesses and objections which a few bad men in the business have led the unthinking minds to believe is general.

The communication was accepted on motion of Casey, seconded by Blackburn.

N. A. Whittle, representing the American Faucet Company, addressed the board in reference to the suction floor cleaner manufactured by his company, a communication regarding which had previously been addressed to the board, and asked permission to demonstrate the machine during the noon hour. Permission was granted.

The action of the board in granting a peddler's license to A. Baldi was reconsidered on motion of Casey, seconded by Brown, and on motion of Brown, seconded by Blackburn, the application of Baldi for a license was referred to Casey for investigation and report at the next meeting.

A. Baril, a resident of South San Francisco, applied for and was granted a license to peddle fruit and vegetables, on motion of Casey, seconded by Brown.

The following reports were received from the motorcycle patrol:

George Lowans, First township—Worked from July 17th to August 6th; 2 arrests; 2 convictions; fines $20.

F. Brown, Second township—Worked 20 days; 6 arrests; 8 convictions; fines $80.

T. A. Martinstein, Third township—Worked 20 days; 12 arrests; 9 convictions; fines $90; 3 cases pending.

Blackburn reported that Casey, Brown and himself had visited the county farm Sunday and made careful examination of the water supply which they found to be entirely inadequate. The plan to pump water from the Spring Valley lakes was not feasible and would not be permitted by the company. It was the decision of the committee that a test well should be sunk on the premises to find out if water could be found below the surface. He therefore moved that the clerk be directed to advertise for bids for sinking a test well seven inches in diameter.

Brown also spoke on the water conditions at the farm. He stated further that the sewage of the farm was another problem that must soon be considered by the board. The drainage is now carried into the San Mateo creek and is a threatened nuisance to the residents along that

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On March 21st, 1884, still another of the old pioneers of San Mateo crossed the "great divide," in the person of James J. Hill, who died quite suddenly at his home in San Mateo. A resident of the county since 1853, Mr. Hill enjoyed a wide acquaintance among the people and was regarded as one of the most popular men of the county. In 1874 he was appointed county assessor by the supervisors to fill a vacancy, and two years later was elected to the same office by the vote of the people, and was later reelected for a second term.

Mr. Hill was a native of Ireland, but emigrated to the United States when but 14 years of age. For some years he resided in New York City, where he learned the trade of a painter. He was among the early ones to be attracted by the "gold fever," starting for the Golden West in 1859 in a sailing vessel. The voyage was anything but a smooth one, as he was twice shipwrecked on the journey and did not reach his goal until two years later. He did not go to the mines, but remained in San Francisco, for two years, engaged in the mercantile business, and then moved to this county, settling on a portion of the Greer ranch in the Canyada. There he engaged in farming and stock raising for a few years and then moved to what was then known as School House Station but now known as Colma, where he started a general merchandise store, which he conducted until he entered the assessor's office.

With the issue of June 7th, 1884, another change was announced in the editorial control of the Times and Gazette. Fremont Older, who had been connected with the paper for some time, first as foreman and later as its editor and manager, retired and his place was filled by J. A. Calhoun, who came to Redwood City for that purpose.

For the first time in the history of the town, the people allowed the Fourth of July to pass without special notice in 1884. On that occasion there seemed to have been no attempt at a celebration of any character. In fact the same appears to have been true of almost the entire county, as the only celebration of any note occurred at Halfmoon Bay. At this place there was a celebration of some magnitude, many attending from other sections of the county. Judge E. F. Fitzpatrick delivered the oration and the day's sport ended up with a big barbecue.

Early in the fall of 1884 the excitement of a political campaign began to find its hold on the people, adherents of both parties making preparations for the approaching county and general elections. The Democrats were the first to enter the local field, holding their county convention in this city on the last day of September. The meeting was held in Germania hall with Nathan C. Carnall as chairman and James Mason as secretary. This convention was a decidedly harmonious one, there being but little contention of any sort, even for the honors of the party nomination, there being but one or two contests. The ticket nominated was as follows: For assemblyman, James V. Coleman; superior judge, Geo. W. Fox; sheriff, J. H. Hatch; tax collector, Chas. Hartsough; county clerk, J. W. Bicknell; district attorney, Geo. H. Buck; auditor, R. L. Mattingly; treasurer, I. L. Jacobson; public administrator, Dr. J. L. Rose.

The Republicans held their county convention at the same place just one week later, with George E. Filkins as chairman and Judge E. F. Fitzpatrick as secretary. Like its Democratic predecessor, this convention was a decidedly harmonious one, void even of serious contests over the nomination, in fact with the single exception of the nomination for sheriff, the ticket was filled by acclamation. For the sheriff's nomination there was a rather lively contest, three candidates coming before the convention, these being W. H. Kinne, J. D. Barrows and E. A. Rankin, and a third ballot being necessary to determine the choice. As filled the ticket was as follows: Assemblyman, Horace Hawes; superior judge, E. F. Head; sheriff, B. A. Rankin; county clerk, E. A. Elkerenkott; tax collector, George W. Lovie; treasurer, P. P. Chamberlain; district attorney, G. E. Filkins; auditor, George Barker; surveyor, J. J. Cloud; public administrator, Dr. E. W. Loveland.

Redwood Wins From Mavericks. The Mavericks of San Francisco met defeat at the hands of the Redwood baseball club last Sunday by a score of 8 to 2. Joe Solari is so confident that they can defeat Redwood that he wants another game, so Redwood will cross bats with the same team next Sunday.

Next Tuesday evening, the 15th instant, the officers of Bonita parlor No. 10, N. D. G. W., will be installed by District Deputy Grand President Annie Patterson of Monte Robles parlor of San Mateo. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. All members are invited to be present.

SUPERVISORS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

County Board Will Adopt More Stringent Regulations for Liquor Traffic

stream. A septic tank should be installed at the farm. He seconded Blackburn's motion that bids be called for a prospect well and the motion carried.

Brown stated that a great saving of distance could be made by changing the location of the roadway at the entrance of the county farm—at least three-fourth of a mile could be saved. He asked that the surveyor be directed to make the necessary survey.

On motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey the matter was referred to Brown and the surveyor to make the change and to secure a new right of way from the Spring Valley Company.

Francis stated that Long Bridge at the terminus of the Ocean Shore railroad was not in safe condition, and as the bridge was subject to heavy use at this time it would be advisable to have it repaired. He stated that he had requested the surveyor to examine the structure and perhaps a report would be made as to its condition at this meeting.

Chairman McEvoy stated that a larger opening should be made in the basement wall at the rear of the courthouse to permit the housing of a vehicle to be used in hauling away refuse from the grounds.
On motion of Francis, seconded by Brown, the matter was referred to McEvoy with power to act.

The chairman stated that there was a dispute as to the salaries that are to be paid to the motorcycle patrolmen. He was of the opinion that the board had revoked its order to pay a reward of $5 for each conviction.

Brown stated that the board's last order fixed the pay of the patrolmen at $5 per day and allowed $5 for each conviction. Personally, he did not care if the patrol was discontinued, but he doubted if his people would approve of such a course as the results of policing of the roads were highly satisfactory.
There were no accidents now and the roads were not abused as formerly. Last Sunday over one thousand automobiles had passed through his district by actual count.

The clerk was requested to examine the minutes and found that in April an order had been made fixing the daily pay of the patrolmen at $5 and allowing a reward of $5 for convictions. The following resolution bearing on the subject, introduced by Blackburn, was on his motion, seconded by Brown, adopted.

Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, that on and after August 7, 1911, the three special motorcycle officers now employed by the Board of Supervisors do from and after August 7, 1911, receive and be paid from salary and out of said county each the sum of $150 per month, and it is expressly provided that each officer be allowed one day off in each week except Saturday or Sunday or a holiday, it being understood that no two officers be off duty on the same day, and that no officer receive any compensation of time imposed.

School Superintendent Cloud addressed the board in reference to the abandonment of the West Union school district, stating that when it became known to him that a district had fallen below the required daily average attendance it was his duty to make that fact known to the superisors at the first meeting in August, he first having notified the trustees of the district of his intention. Mr. Cloud had served notice on the trustees of West Union and none of them were present to object to the closing of the district. It was now the duty of the board to declare the school district temporarily closed. If in the future there were sufficient pupils to resume the school the board could re-establish the district.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Blackburn, the board reconsidered its action taken at the morning session, and on motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey, the school district was declared temporarily suspended, and the clerk was directed to inform the trustees of their rights in the matter.

James T. O'Keefe appeared on behalf of Frank Dougherty who formerly conducted a saloon at Woodside and stated that Dougherty was entitled to a rebate of his license, he having given up his business in April, three months before the license had expired.
C. Kreiss had been granted license to sell liquor at the same place.

On motion of Casey, seconded by Blackburn, Dougherty was granted a rebate of $27.

District Attorney Swart stated that the county liquor ordinance was in need of some amendments, one in particular, being that the minimum fine should be raised to $20, the price of a year's license.
Mr. Swart said that he had been informed that there was a number of saloons in the county that were doing business without a license. The penalty for such an offense, which is a misdemeanor, is a fine of from one dollar to five hundred dollars, as the trial judge may elect.

Charles Meyers, the secretary of the Royal Arch, the saloonmen's organization, stated that there were many so-called "blind pigs" in the county. It was the desire of the liquor dealers that all be made to pay a license. He approved of an increase of the penalty fine.

McEvoy believed that the penalty should not be less than $250. The ordinance should be carefully revised.

Blackburn said the board should invite suggestions from those interested.

Tax Collector McSweeney said that if the saloonmen would aid in the conviction of offenders it would be a great help to the officers and would improve conditions in the county.

Brown stated that he would shortly present a number of amendments to the ordinance. He believed that it needed sweeping changes as it was faulty in many ways.

Communications were received from Constable Wallace and Justice of the Peace Davis of the First township regarding the poor condition of the lock-up at San Bruno.
They were referred to Supervisor Casey.

The district attorney stated that he had exhausted every endeavor to persuade the hog ranchers at Colma to live up to the county ordinance but without avail. Within forty days he would commence suits to compel obedience to the law. In the meantime he might require the passage of a new ordinance to facilitate the prosecution movement.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Casey, Superintendent O'Farrell of the courthouse grounds was directed to render a report at the next meeting as to what time would be required to complete the work he has in hand.

On motion of Blackburn, seconded by Brown the tax collector was given permission to make certain changes in the arrangement of his office, taking care not to damage the walls.

Plans and specifications for a new concrete bridge, crossing the San Francisco creek, to take the place of the structure washed out last winter, to be jointly built by San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, were presented by Surveyor Neuman.
The plans and specifications were accepted on motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey, with the exception of that section delegating to the engineer the authority to employ an inspector of the bridge, and the clerk directed to publish a bid for the construction of the bridge, bids to be opened September 5th.

The joint quarterly report of the auditor and treasurer was presented and adopted on motion of Blackburn, seconded by McEvoy, and ordered published.

Francis stated that the surveyor had reported the unsafe condition of the Long bridge connecting the Fourth and Fifth districts, and said that repairs were urgently needed.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Casey, Supervisors Francis and Blackburn were empowered to have the bridge repaired at once at a cost of not more than $300 to each district.

Brown was authorized to have a number of bridges on the Camp Sawyer road repaired without calling for bids, the work be of an emergency character.

A discussion of conditions at the county farm was had during which the superintendent was complimented for his management by Supervisors Blackburn, Casey and Brown.
The committee that had visited the farm last Sunday, it was the opinion however, that the farm adjunct was expensive and should be dispensed with. Brown stated that recently several capital operations had been performed by Dr. Baker which were successful. A new female nurse had been employed and everything within reason was being done for the comfort of the county's helpless wards.

William Ramey, baggageman at this place until recently, called on

CONCRETE BRIDGES PROVE TOO COSTLY

Council Eliminates Reinforced Concrete Roadways and A.
Hess Gets Contract

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening Chairman George A. Merrill of the board went on record as officially approving of the general conduct of the saloons of the city during the commendatory remarks of the chairman was the presentation of a set of resolutions adopted by Redwood City Lodge of the Knights of the Royal Arch, the representative organization of the liquor dealers of the county. These resolutions pledged the members of the organization to assist in the enforcement of the laws intended to regulate the saloon business and to assist in the enforcement, and also enjoined upon the membership of the Order the implicit obedience of all laws regardless of the expediency or opinion as to either law in question. In presenting the resolutions for action, Chairman Merrill commended the saloon keepers of the city for their acquiescence in the restrictive measures adopted by the present administration and for their assistance in the enforcement of several restrictive provisions which but for this aid might have become nullities. The spirit shown in this regard, he said, led him to believe the liquor dealers were in earnest in their expressions and should be given credit with a genuine desire for betterment such as would meet public approval. The sentiments expressed by Chairman Merrill seemed to meet the unanimous approval of his fellow trustees and the resolutions were ordered placed in the records of the meeting.

Before taking up the general business of the evening, Chairman Merrill explained the reasons which prompted the holding of his special meeting at which T. C. Rice was allowed to withdraw his bid for the concrete bridges and retaining wall on the County Road. The withdrawal of the bid, it was explained, was allowed upon the showing by Mr. Rice that he had made an error in his figures and would be at a very considerable loss if compelled to accept the contract. The trustees believed it to be unjust to take advantage of an error and with a desire to be just to individuals as well as the general public had allowed the withdrawal of the bid. To have postponed this action until the next regular meeting would have necessitated the loss of at least two weeks of valuable time, and might have resulted in the postponement of the completion of the work until the advent of the winter rains.

Five new bids were presented for the same work, each presenting figures on two specifications that designated A being for wooden roadways on the bridges and that designated B being for reinforced concrete roadways. These bids were as follows: Chas. P. Nott, Palo Alto, A, $11,810; B, $13,133. Lester Spinks Construction Co., San Francisco, A, $12,099; B, $13,999. A. Hess, Redwood City, A, $10,790; B, $12,992. Harry B. Morey & Sons, Menlo Park, A, $12,500; B, $13,700. T. C. Rice, Redwood City, A, $10,795; B, $12,821. Upon the statement of City Clerk Plump that there was not sufficient money in the fund to allow of the concrete construction the award of the contract was held in abeyance until Tuesday evening.

In reply to a request from H. C. Tuckson as to the feeling of the council in the matter, he was informed that water mains would be extended to the Eagle Hill section as soon as the city acquired the right to the streets.

On motion of Trustee Hynding consideration of the street railway franchise was postponed until August 21st.

It was decided that street lights should be installed on Oak avenue as soon as the wires can be run by the city electrician.

City Attorney Mansfield was directed to notify property owners on the County road between Brewster avenue and Jefferson avenue to construct sidewalks and curbs along the street within the next 90 days.

Superintendent Dickey was given authority to secure about two car loads of rock for the purpose of recovering the surface of Mound street.

In order to improve the water service and to prevent stagnation, Street Superintendent Dickey was authorized to lay water mains on Warren street, from Hopkins to Howland, and on Chew street from Spruce to Pine.

T. C. Rice was given an extension of two weeks in which to complete his work in improvement of districts 13 and 14.

McGarvey, Hess & Kreis petitioned for the acceptance of the work of macadamizing James street from the County road to Elwood, and Elwood street from James to Brewster, hearing on the petition was set for August 21st.

No bids were received for the sale of the bonds for the improvement of district 16 and the matter was allowed to go over pending further investigation.

City Clerk Plump presented the city assessment rolls for the current fiscal year as prepared by him. The roll shows a total valuation of city property of $1,846,086, classified as follows: Real estate, $1,419,682; Improvements, $604,821; personal property, $191,508.

After accepting the roll the council took an adjournment until Tuesday evening, when it reconvened with all the trustees again in their seats.

Chairman Merrill reported that as a committee of the whole the council had considered the bids for the improvements on the county road and had decided that no changes could be made in the specifications and recommended the adoption of the design A or wooden bridge plan. On motion of Trustee Hynding the contract was then awarded to A. Hess, whose bid was the lowest.

Trustee Hynding reported that he had arranged a compromise agreement with property owners affected by the change of the channel at the Center street bridge by which they would relinquish all claims provided the city would erect a wooden bulkhead. The compromise was approved and the public works committee given authority to construct the bulkhead as soon as the agreement could be signed.

Members of the board urged upon contractors the necessity for the completion of the street work in the Dinger Park districts without more delay, in order that the question of refund of surplus payments might be disposed of. Discussion of the method of making the refund brought from City Attorney Mansfield the opinion that direct repayments of cash could only be made to those property owners who had made payments in full. In the case of those who had made installment payments, the surplus must be applied to the redemption of the bonds. It is probable that at the next meeting of the council the law governing this subject will be fully gone into.

They have put three or four saloons out of commission and have denied the application of other saloon men and have aroused considerable opposition. However, they have done their duty and the people whom they have served so faithfully should sustain and encourage them in their noble efforts to rid Daly City of thugs, gamblers and vicious characters.

The largest and most enthusiastic meeting ever held in Menlo Park took place in Duff and Doyle hall Thursday evening to discuss the proposition to incorporate the town. There appeared to be a unanimity of sentiment in the community in favor of incorporation. The meeting was called to order by Geo. Meekins who in a brief speech stated the objects of the gathering. Rousing speeches were made by Ex-United States Senator Chas. N. Felton, A. G. Hahn, Jas. T. O'Keefe, W. J. Murray and others in favor of incorporating the town. By a unanimous vote it was agreed to incorporate and fixed the boundary lines the same as those of the sanitary district. A committee consisting of the following was chosen to prepare the petition to the board of supervisors after securing the required signatures and do all the preliminary work: Thos. Fitzgerald, W. A. Doyle, W. A. Malone, E. J. Crane and Martin Walsh. The committee was instructed to secure signatures of the taxpayers at once and report to a meeting of the citizens to be held this evening in Duff and Doyle hall. It was stated that in as much as the Fair Oaks people desired to incorporate it might be well to confer with them and possibly some agreement may be reached whereby satisfactory boundary lines might be decided upon and for that purpose the chair appointed John MacBain, Harry B. Morey, J. B. Kelly, W. J. Murray and James T. O'Keefe. Mr. Felton stated at the meeting that the rumor in circulation to the effect that the railroad company had in contemplation the moving of the depot from Menlo Park to Fair Oaks was groundless. He had visited the railroad people and they stated that such a thing was never thought of and would never be done. Mr. Murray stated that the boundary lines of the proposed incorporation of Fair Oaks would extend to Selby Lane on the north, encircle the Flood property below the Middlefield road and include Valparaiso avenue near town. He thought this was taking in territory that belonged to Menlo. Other speakers expressed their indignation in strong language concerning the rumor that was trying to secure territory that did not belong to them. Mr. Hahn stated that Menlo Park was an old community and he did not see why it should be devoured by Fair Oaks that was only an upstart. It is most likely that both petitions for incorporation will be presented at the next regular meeting of the supervisors. Both communities are determined to become municipalities of the sixth class and they will most likely be successful.

ANOTHER PIONEER GOES TO LAST REST

William Holder, Man Who Built First Home in Redwood City Ends Life's Campaign

Another of the old pioneer settlers of San Mateo county, one who did much to lay the solid foundation of her prosperity, has laid down the struggle of earthly life and crossed the Great Divide to his eternal home. After rounding out a life of more than four score years, usually allotted to men, filled with the love and respect of a community in which he has lived for more than a half of a century, William Holder has gone to his last earthly rest. With the simple but impressive ceremonies of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, an institution which has had his active support for almost the entire time of his manhood, all that is mortal of this grand old pioneer was laid away in the sacred precincts of Union Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

The last services were held in the hall of Bay View Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, and were attended by a large representation of members of the Order and friends, many of whom dated their first acquaintance with the deceased from their childhood days. Following the impressive ceremonies of the ritual of the Order Rev. C. C. Kirtland, pastor of the Congregational church, delivered a short but touching eulogy of the deceased, dwelling eloquently upon the splendid traits of fraternal brotherhood exhibited. Perhaps no more touching eulogy of the dead pioneer can be found that were the words of Judge Buck, uttered at the conclusion of the service when he said, "I have known Brother Holder intimately for more than a half of a century, and during all of that time I have never heard him utter an unkind word."

William Holder, a native of London, England, where he was born September 28th, 1825, was one of the earliest settlers of San Mateo county, and probably the first man to erect for himself a permanent habitation in Redwood City, where he spent more than half of his life, devoting himself as much to public good as to private gain. Learning the trade of a carpenter while still a youth, he early struck out in the world to carve his own way, emigrating to the colony of Australia in 1849. There he worked but a short time when he learned of the discovery of gold in California, and lured by the universal fever for quick wealth, he, in company with a small party, chartered a sailing vessel, and set out for the new El Dorado. Immediately after his arrival at San Francisco Mr. Holder soon began his quest for wealth. He soon found, however, that wealth was not for every one in the mines and that the severe climate he had encountered was more than his constitution would stand. Returning to San Francisco weakened by the inroads of fever, Mr. Holder soon learned of the salubrity of the climate down the peninsula, and located near the present town of Belmont, where in company with William Cottam started a road-side house, serving refreshments to the stage travelers bound around the bay. The "house" was called "The Panda" and consisted of a canvas covered frame, the cooking being prepared on a camp oven. Two years satisfied young Holder with this business and provided a small working capital which he invested in a tract of 80 acres of wooded land. The next year spent in cutting and marketing his wood with some business success.

In 1852 Mr. Holder concluded to make his home in Redwood City and built himself what was in reality the first substantial residence erected in the town. This was in itself no small undertaking, as the lumber required was hauled from the mill of Dennis Martin, located in the mountains some distance west of the town, and cost $80 per thousand. For some little time after this he continued the business of cutting wood the product of his labor being sold in the markets of San Francisco. In the fall of 1855, Mr. Holder returned to Australia, taking with him a valuable cargo—not of the shining practices he had come to seek, but of golden California grain. Like hosts of others since, however, he could not long resist the call of the glorious land and returned to California ready to spend the remainder of his life in Redwood City. Securing a tract of land along the marsh, he built and equipped a pleasant home in which he operated for a number of years. At the same time he pursued his trade, erecting many of the houses required in the early founding of the town which he lived to see grow to considerable proportions.

During the early history of Redwood City Mr. Holder was quite active in its affairs. For several terms after the town was incorporated he served it as one of its trustees and gave much of his time to the superintendence of its first water works system. He was also one of the active members of the first fire company.

Early in its history he became a member of Bay View Lodge of Odd Fellows, and to the time of his death took an active interest in its affairs, as in those of Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge, the kindred organization.

During the latter years of his life the decline of physical strength compelled him to relinquish active business pursuits, and his declining years have been spent quietly, enjoying the friends which his strong social nature attracted. Of a generous, kindly disposition, he made true friends of both old and young, and it may well be said of him that those who knew him long loved him most. In the passing of this old pioneer, Redwood City has lost one of the best representatives of her citizenship, a man whose highest desire was the good of his fellow man.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Redwood City Citizens Show
the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the danger of serious kidney ailments when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ailments can be cured. Read what a Redwood City citizen says:
"Fred Hausler, 1018 Stambaugh St., Redwood City, Cal., says: 'My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural.
Knowing that difficulties of this kind often result seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxious to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at F. A. Ryan's Drug Store and their use completely removed my trouble. In July 1907 I publicly testified in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Doan's Kidney Pills.'"
